What is Consent?

- Consent is a freely given agreement to sexual activity
- Consent to one particular sexual activity does not constitute consent to other types of sexual activities
- A person's lack of verbal or physical resistance or submission resulting from the use or threat of force does not constitute consent
- A person's manner of dress does not constitute consent
- A person's consent to past sexual activity does not constitute consent to future sexual activity
- A person's consent to engage in sexual activity with one person does not constitute consent to engage in sexual activity with another person
- A person can withdraw consent at any time
- A person cannot consent to sexual activity if that person is unable to understand the nature of the activity or give knowing consent due to certain circumstances that include, but are not limited to:
 - o The person is incapacitated due to the use or influence of alcohol or drugs
 - o The person is asleep or unconscious
 - o The person is a minor
 - o The person is incapacitated due to a mental disability
